

Remedial Herstory Lesson Plans

Dr. Barbara Tischler

The Remedial Herstory Project

“Women are half of humanity, they should be half the content in history classes.”

Strategies and Methods

- Building inquiry-based lesson plans using primary material on women’s history
- Producing engaging media that supports teachers as they teach women’s history
- Providing professional development for educators to learn and incorporate gendered history
- Marketing these resources to secondary teachers around the world

Target Audience(s) and Focus Topic(s)

- K-12 educators and their students
- Social studies subjects, especially history, K-12
- Plymouth State University, New Hampshire Humanities, New Hampshire Women’s Foundation, Patrons
- Largest collection of inquiry-based materials on women’s history
